

Can you give some advantages to living in the country despite some of the inconveniences?

There are benefits to country living that you won't find anywhere else. There are always going to be some trade-offs, like having to drive two hours just to go to work or meet your friends who still live downtown. On the other hand, if you can't get enough of green meadows and big blue skies, the benefits of country living may just outweigh the negatives.

Cleaner air

The further out into the country you get, the more your air quality improves. Researchers have a few ideas for why this might be, including less pollution, greater abundance of trees and grass.

Researcher Scientist Expert

A few A small number of Some

Idea Thought Belief Opinion View
Theory

Including Consist of Comprising

Pollution Fumes Greenhouse gasses

Abundance Profusion Large quantity
Plethora

Tree Bush Shrub Sapling Seedling

Grass Lawn Prairie Savanna Plains
Moors Grassland